Attorney General John Ashcroft
US Department of Justice
950 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20530-0001

Dear Attorney General Ashcroft:

I am writing to inform you of what I think about the recent settlement between the Justice Department, and Microsoft. I think that this case should not have been brought to court in first place. However, it is in the best interests of all parties involved to accept this settlement and move on to other things.

The terms are more then fair and reasonable for the government to accept. Microsoft will be making a number of specific changes to their products, and business practices. For example, Microsoft has agreed to license its Windows operating system products to the 20 largest computer makers on identical terms and conditions, including price. Also, the company has agreed not to retaliate against computer makers who ship software that compete with anything in its operating system.

As you can see, Microsoft did not get off easy in this case. Please accept the settlement, and take no more action against Microsoft. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Greg Ambrose
